Humanic Design celebrates its one year anniversary with International Payroll Partner, Expaticore, by unveiling new innovation in Expatriate Self Service Technology.

Mahwah, NJ – February 26th 2009: Humanic Design, a leading provider of Human Resource Management Systems (HRMS), today announces its one year anniversary with International Payroll Partner, Expaticore Services LLC and concurrently unveils robust document upload functionality as part of the Expaticore system. This enhancement, developed and maintained by Humanic Design for Expaticore, is in addition to standard features of the full featured expatriate payroll international software platform.

“Clients are thrilled by this latest improvement to our international payroll and expatriate service programs.” said Expaticore founder and president, Dave Leboff. Mr. Leboff is known as an innovator in the industry and for his pursuit of optimal global mobility solutions for clients. “One critical cornerstone of our program is definitely the payroll and HR software developed by Humanic Design. Our drive for excellence is equally matched by Humanic Design’s drive to continually meet clients’ needs with the best possible HRMS solutions. This new feature is another successful demonstration of that pursuit of excellence. It also reinforces our decision to rely on Humanic Design’s technology, to leverage their partnership mentality and unparalleled service ethic to continue to produce valuable solutions for our clients.”

In addition to providing expatriates with real-time visibility of their pay slips in multiple currencies, the new upload feature allows Expaticore’s clients to easily publish other assignment-related documents for employees to view via a personal portal. Documents may include assignment letters, payroll communications, policies, or any additional information the client wishes their employees to see.

“HUMANIC Design is pleased with the Expaticore partnership and their dedication to providing the best services & solutions to their clients.” said Steve Brander, Vice President of Sales and Business Development for Humanic. “They offer the expertise to companies of all sizes that need to deploy or transfer resources worldwide without having to worry or understand the nature of foreign HR laws, customs, taxes, etc. In today’s complex world, more companies are becoming global and very few have the expertise to launch an expatriate initiative. Expaticore’s knowledge and experience coupled with Humanic’s solid and robust HRIS / PR technology solutions can provide client companies with a partner to enable them to go global.”

About Expaticore Services LLC
